If not provided, rental history demonstrating three (3) or more violations within one year, defaults in rent, outstanding balances, or lease violations resulting in termination of tenancy will be grounds for denial. Less than twelve months verifiable rental history may require a security deposit not to exceed one and a half month's rent.

Based on this information, Owner/Agent may waive the credit, eviction and/or landlord history screening criteria for this applicant.

Cascade Management, Inc. does not discriminate on the basis of handicapped status in the admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs and activities.

Screening Criteria ICRIMINAL CONVICTION CRITERIA

A single conviction, guilty plea, no contest plea or pending charge for any of the following shall be grounds for denial of the rental application. If there are multiple convictions, guilty pleas or no contest pleas on the applicant's record, Owner/Agent may increase the number of years by adding together the years in each applicable category. Owner/Agent will not consider arrest records (except when there are open pending charges), diversion or deferred judgements, convictions that have been judicially dismissed, expunged, voided, or invalidated, convictions for crimes no longer illegal in Oregon, juvenile convictions, and expunged records.

A limited screening involving a credit report (for identification purposes only) and a criminal background check will be performed. The caregiver must meet requirements regarding criminal history or their application will be denied.

APPLICATION REJECTION POLICY

If your application is rejected due to negative and/or adverse information being reported, you may:

1. Contact the company that supplied the information to discuss your application.
2. Contact the credit-reporting agency to identify who is reporting unfavorable information.
3. Correct any incorrect information through the credit-reporting agent as per their policy.
4. Request the credit-reporting agency to submit a corrected credit check to the appropriate screening company. Upon receipt of the corrected information your application will be reevaluated for the next available unit.

Be Advised: Cascade Management, Inc. may refuse to process applications that are incomplete, inaccurate, fail to provide information concerning applicant's identification or income, or when applicant intentionally withholds or misrepresents required information. Landlord will not reject an application as incomplete because an applicant or member of the applicant's household does not produce a social security number or prove lawful presence in the county, with the exception of properties who receive funding from USDA or HUD.

Cascade Management, Inc. does not discriminate on the basis of handicapped status in the admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs and activities.

Written explanations appealing your denial may be sent to: Equal Housing Opportunity Manager, 9600 SW Oak St., Suite 200, Portland, OR 97223.

If the appeal is granted, you will be returned to the wait list as follows: appeal requests submitted within 3 business days of the denial will result in you being restored to your original position on the waitlist; appeal requests submitted beyond three (3) business days of the denial will result in you being restored at the bottom of the waitlist.

Appeals that are granted also allow you to be considered prequalified, with all screening fees waived, for any rental opportunities managed by Cascade Management, Inc. for three (3) months following the appeal approval date. You will however be required to recertify in writing that no conditions have materially changed from those described in the landlord's approved application. If conditions have materially changed, Cascade Management, Inc. may use those changes as a basis for denial.

If your appeal is denied, you will receive written notification of the denial within two (2) weeks. Written notification will explain the basis for the denial and include an explanation of reasons that the supplemental evidence did not adequately compensate for the factors that informed the landlord's decision to reject the application.

Under fair housing laws, a person with a disability is someone:

- With a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities of the individual;
- With a record of having a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities of the individual; or
- Who is regarded as having a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities.

Major life activities include, but are not limited to seeing, walking, reaching, lifting, hearing, speaking, interacting with others, concentrating, learning, and caring for oneself.

Reasonable Accommodations

A reasonable accommodation is a change or exception to a rule, policy, practice, or service that may be necessary for a person with a disability to have an equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling. This includes public use and common spaces or fulfilling their program obligations. Any change in the way things are customarily done that allows a person with a disability to enjoy housing opportunities or to meet program requirements is a reasonable accommodation.

All housing or programs are required to make reasonable accommodations. Housing providers may not require persons with disabilities to pay extra fees or deposits or any other special requirements as a condition of receiving a reasonable accommodation.

Reasonable Modifications

A reasonable modification is a structural change made to the premises in order to afford an individual with a disability full enjoyment of the premises. Reasonable modifications can include structural changes to interiors and exteriors of dwellings and to public use and common areas.

Under federal law, public housing agencies, other federally assisted housing providers, and state or local government entities are required to provide and pay for structural modifications as reasonable accommodations/modifications. For private housing, the person requesting the reasonable modification will need to cover the costs of the modification.

Verification of Disability

In response to an accommodation or modification request and only when it is necessary to verify that a person has a disability that is not known or apparent to the housing provider, they can ask an applicant/tenant to provide documentation from a qualified third party (professional), that the applicant or tenant has a disability that results in one or more functional limitation. If the disability-related need for the requested accommodation or modification is not known or obvious, the housing provider can request documentation stating that the requested accommodation or modification is necessary because of the disability, and that it will allow the applicant/tenant access to the unit and any amenities or services included with the rental equally to other tenants.

A housing provider cannot inquire into the nature or extent of a known or apparent disability or require that an applicant or tenant release his or her medical records. Housing providers can require that the verification come from a qualified professional, but they cannot require that it be a medical doctor.

Nondiscrimination laws cover applicants and tenants with disabilities, as well as applicants and tenants and without disabilities who live or are associated with individuals with disabilities. These laws also prohibit housing providers from refusing to rent to persons with disabilities, making discriminatory statements, and treating persons with disabilities less favorably than other tenants because of their disability.

Under fair housing laws, it is illegal for a housing provider to deny reasonable accommodations and reasonable modifications to individuals with disabilities. If wrongfully denied an accommodation or modification contact HUD or the Fair Housing Council of Oregon. Time limits apply to asserting any legal claims for discrimination.
